

Quality & Food Safety Policy

British Sugar is committed to producing legal, safe, authentic, quality products that meet the high standards required by our customers, through continuous improvement of our people, plant and processes.

This approach encompasses the way we design, develop, manufacture and distribute our extensive range of products in to the food chain based on certification to ISO 9001 and BRS & FEMAS standards.

We want our customers to choose us as a supplier for reasons other than price and aim to do this by understanding what they need and value for their products to be successful and meet customer expectations.

This policy statement is communicated to all of British Sugar's employees and contractors.

Paul Kenward
Managing Director